

bossibly

about michelle

Michelle is the Founder and Maven Maker of bossibly; she aides young professionals and business owners alike by coaching them to become influential leaders. Using a unique system, she combines character strengths and core values to help them create a culture of engagement, which fosters predictable results and accountability.

her why

Michelle strives to give back because she had to learn things the hard way as no one taught many of the things she shares when she was young. As the oldest of eight, her parents had their hands full raising eight kids and were so focused on basic needs so she aspires to help younger folks learn the stuff she wish she knew!

public appearances

20

TEACHING EVENTS

16

PUBLIC SPEAKING
ENGAGEMENTS

7

PUBLISHED ARTICLES

education/affiliations

International Association of Women (IAW), Orlando Chapter President - 2019

Master of Science, George Washington University, Project Management - 2006

Bachelor of Arts, Ottawa University Management of Computer of Information Systems - 2001

video montage

3 TIPS TO MOTIVATE PEOPLE

key speaking topics

Talent Management: Ahhh...HEAR what your people are saying! Learn the 5 key concepts to retaining your employees.

Conflict: Be prepared to deal with it when it happens!

Leadership & Influence: You don't need to be 'the boss' or manager to have a group follow your lead to get stuff done. 😊

testimonials

Michelle has a genuine passion for life, and is in constant pursuit to expand and improve upon all aspects of her life. She is a trusted resource for me when dealing with challenging situations, both professionally and personally. Michelle possesses a driving combination of dissatisfaction (with what's not working) and optimism (that a solution exists) with a healthy dose of laugh-out-loud humor that makes her insights useful and easy to digest.

~ Amy Unger

What makes Michelle such an awesome person to work with is just her being – she is funny! Her laughter is one characteristic that anyone who has met her will attest to. Alongside that is her compassion and deep wisdom and spiritual self that looks beyond what our eyes see into the depth of the universe we all can reach out to. She makes you want to do a deep search for your purpose in this life. Michelle makes you want to be a better person that you are. Michelle makes you soul search and resurrect any talents or dreams that may have been dormant in your life all because you didn't believe in yourself. What a motivator, inspiration and yet real human being that expresses her own vulnerability with no reservation!

~Sylvia Banda

more topics

- What it takes to be a Millennial boss or influencer
- Bag the fear and learn to speak up with confidence!
- Soul Fuel: Finding time for what matters to you!
- Delegation: Learn how to manage the monkeys you're not supposed to own!
- Team Building: How to quickly and easily develop a group to reach a common publications

- Florida Today: Team Building – From Storming to Success!
- Nutmeg Aspirin: Have Fun in Everything You Do!
- Project Expert: How to Identify ROI in Your Project Management Office
- Project Expert: Business Analyst Shouldn't Equal Project Manager
- Why a New Project Management Tool Won't Fix Poor Technique
- Project Expert: From List Maker to Project Manager
- Project Expert: Balancing Art and Science in Project Management

